

ACTING UP!

Your holiday celebration

From the folks who found the JOY-SPOT™, a holiday experience that captures the spirit of creativity and fun. Don't settle for the same old party ideas go out on a limb.

Purpose

1. To experience some temporary relief from stresses, worries and fears.
2. To enjoy an hilarious hour of entertainment starring the boss, and the person at the desk over there.
3. For participants to find their inner JOY-SPOT™.

This special program is a new form of innovative peer entertainment. Volunteers learn improvisational comedy skills that transfer metaphorically and practically to their work together long after the "show" has ended.

Here's What You Need

- ✓ 25 – 30 of your willing volunteers (ok, ok, we accept anxious-yet-willing volunteers)
- ✓ 60 – 90 minutes prior to the event to train / coach these folks
- ✓ A large pile of clothes, shoes, wigs and accessories (that will be returned in fine condition)
- ✓ A stage or risers at least 3 feet high
- ✓ 30 - 60 minutes of "show time"

Here's What You Get

- ☆ A fun playshop for volunteers, wherein they learn the essentials of improvisation, together with some structures for theatre games.
- ☆ Volunteers who have had a great time together, and have had the opportunity to practice critical team-building skills in a playful way.
- ☆ Carol Ann Fried to host / MC your event, and warm up the audience.
- ☆ An entertainment experience including a series of improvisational comedy scenes and a short production of a well-known fairy-tale.
- ☆ A memorable and laughter-filled hour of fun!
